Credit Card Reader

Welcome to AutoRepair Cloud tutorial. In this guide you will learn how to connect and set up your credit card reader in our shop management system.

Log into your account and go to the Configuration -> Financial -> Client Payments.

Here you can see three payment processing systems to choose from. You can pick one to work with.

Let us give you a short overview of all three systems.

First is the Clover system. Please note that our system works with clover through "smartonlineorders.com". In order to process credit card payments you have to log in at "api.smartonlineorders.com".

To log in enter your clover profile login and password.

Second is the Square system. This system is only available on mobile devices. To link square payment system install to AutoRepair Cloud Shop and Square register POS system applications on your device.

First log into the Square application. Otherwise an error will occur if you attempt to make a payment.

Please note for the system to work correctly on iOS devices you have to go through complete system authorization in order to be able to accept credit card payments. Otherwise errors may occur.

PayPal is the third available system we are glad to offer you.

Setting of this system is very similar to the Square settings. You have to install the PayPal application on your device and activate PayPal in your AutoRepair Cloud Client Payments menu.

If you are not logged in, a pop-up authorization window will appear where you can proceed with your login and payments.

PayPal also requires permissions to work correctly. Once you link one of the payment systems you have to change status to finish and press the Pay button on your repair page. Next a pop-up window with selective payment systems will appear.

Square allows several payment options like cash and credit card payment to choose from. Once a payment is confirmed a status changes to Pay.

If you are not authorized in the Square application when you press the Pay button on your repair page, you will get an error message. To solve it, simply log into the Square application.

When getting paid with PayPal, after pressing the button, you will see a pop-up payment window or login window.
